

Do you have a passion for scientific writing?

At Lead Discovery Center GmbH we develop drug leads for diverse indications aiming to combine the best of both worlds, academia and industry.

We integrate long-term professional experience with the flexible spirit of a start-up company.

Be part of our team and contribute to the development of new medicines that may improve the lives of thousands of patients.

We are currently looking for a Associate Scientific Writing (m/f/d) in Dortmund

Your responsibilities:

- Writing and developing various communications documents
- Editing and alteration of communications to required specifications and to timelines
- Preparation of scientific reports, coordination of editing and revisions
- Provision of editorial support for project related materials
- Work with scientific and administrative team members
- Conduct of literature searches of relevant material
- Proficient use of internet searches including PubMed

Your qualifications:

- Life Science specialist (Msc, PhD), basic knowledge of drug discovery, with a passion for writing
- Excellent written and verbal English/German language, attention to detail and editorial standards
- Experience in scientific writing, strong writing and reviewing skills
- Motivation and ability to thrive in a dynamic environment, work to and within deadlines and to juggle multiple projects
- Computer skills (MS Office, Adobe)
- Experience with reference manager software
- Organisational skills
- Strong interpersonal skills
- Be a very good team player
- Working as part of a multidisciplinary team
- Great communication and eye for detail

Your benefits:

- Negotiable salary based on experience
- A varied, permanent part-time/full-time position in Dortmund
- New challenges through many innovative and diversified projects to be reported
- Flexible working environment with flextime in a friendly and respectful atmosphere where equality, tolerance and communicative interaction have always prevailed
- A flat hierarchy that allows for quick, unbureaucratic decisions
- Possibility to constantly improve your skill set

Please email your meaningful application, quoting reference LDC2022ASW, to: application@lead-discovery.de